DETAILED ACTION

The preliminary amendment dated 1-8-02 and the petition to make it special dated 3-19-02 are acknowledged.

Claims included in the prosecution are 1-38.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 8, 13-23 and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 8, 13 and 35 applicant recites the terms, 'liquids' and 'suspensions'. The distinction is unclear. If applicant's intent is to convey a single phase composition by the term, 'liquid' it is unclear how this is possible since phospholipids are lipophilic and will only form a suspensions.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent

Art Unit: :1615

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321© may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-12 and 37-38 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 14-39 and 41-60 of copending Application No. 09/562,207. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both are drawn to the

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Desai (5,206,219).

Desai discloses enteric formulations containing an active agent and a phospholipid and methods of making the preparation in the form of either capsules or tablets. The active agents include hormones, enzymes, interferon and cyclosporin. The phospholipids taught are DMPC and egg lecithin (note the abstract, col. 2, lines 54-62; col. 5, line 56 through col. 6, line 17; Examples and claims).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakagame (4,615,885) in view of Ganter (5,635,206) by themselves or in combination.

Nagakame discloses a method of preparation of lyophilized powders containing a phospholipid and the active agent and coating them with an enteric coating and the formulations are either in the form of tablets or capsules. The method of preparation of the powders involves dissolving the phospholipid and evaporating the organic solvent. Since the active agent is hydrophilic, an aqueous medium containing the active agent is added and the resultant mixture is lyophilized to prepare proliposomal powders (which upon contact with water form liposomes just as in instant case). Nagakame's process thus, involves an additional step of adding the aqueous medium.

Ganter while disclosing proliposomal compositions teaches that a mixture suitable for the preparation of liposomes can be made by mixing lecithin (phospholipid), solubilizer and/or lipophilic and hydrophilic active agents and preparing a dry powders without the addition of water (note the abstract, col. 2, lines 4-59, examples and claims).

Omitting the step of the addition of an aqueous solution the dried phospholipid in Nagakame and prepare the dry powders would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art since Ganter teaches that phospholipid mixtures could be prepared without the addition of water and still get liposomal preparations when the dry powders come into contact with water. It should be noted that although instant claims recite 'non-liposomal preparations', in the specification these are referred to as 'proliposomal preparations'.
